BEWARE THE IDES OF MARCH !

The Velaslavasay Panorama Second Anniversary Revue

ON THE FOREBODING OF THE IDES OF MARCH

IT is to William Shakespeare that we owe the ominous and foreboding feelings evoked by the date once commonly referred to as the Ides of March. Until he depicted the Tragedy of Julius Caesar's death on that fateful day, the Ides of March was just another day on the Roman Calendar, no more significant than the 4th of January or the 19th of July. In Caesar's Time, dates of the calendar month were indicated through their relationship to three specific days: The Kalends {the first of the month} The Nones {the 5th day for short months and the 7th day for the longer months} and The Ides {the 13th day for short months and the 15th day for long} Had Caesar been murdered on the 7th of the tenth month, we would now all fear the Nones of October. ❧

Revue Performances By:

Luna

Goddess of the Moon

***

Major Andy Stolarek

***

Miss Christine Louise Berry

***

Kitty Diggins as Salomé

***

Soothsayer Jamie Jameson

***

& other surprise guests

THE IDES OF MARCH SECOND ANNIVERSARY REVUE

Date: Saturday, March 15th of the year 2003

Time: Reception 2 'til 5pm,
REVUE begins at 3 o'clock

Location: At the Velaslavasay PANORAMA
5553 Hollywood Boulevard
Los Angeles, California 90028
PANORAMA@PANORAMAINHOLLYWOOD.ORG
(323) 464-4108

Price: $7 General Public
$3 Enthusiast Society Members

